If you've made a mistake while entering your name on a British Airways ticket, don't worry -- the airline allows corrections under certain conditions. The quickest way to get help is by calling 1-833-341-5261, where a live representative can guide you through the name change process. Below are some common FAQs and answers related to British Airways name correction:

Yes, British Airways allows minor name corrections due to typos, such as fixing a spelling error. However, full name changes (e.g., transferring the ticket to another person) are generally not allowed.

You can request a name correction by:

- Calling 1-833-341-5261 for immediate support
- Visiting the official British Airways website
- Going to the airport ticket counter (if your departure is near)

When you contact 1-833-341-5261, have the following information handy:

- Your booking confirmation code
- The correct spelling of your name as per your government ID or passport
- Details of the flight and travel date

For minor spelling corrections, British Airways typically does not charge a fee. But if your change affects the itinerary or requires ticket reissuance, additional charges may apply.

It's best to request changes as soon as possible. Ideally, make corrections at least 24 to 48 hours before departure to avoid check-in issues or boarding denials.

For personalized help, call 1-833-341-5261 -- the dedicated British Airways support line for booking changes, including name corrections, flight reschedules, and more.
